The following are some of the reason so many financial institutions have found Farley Law so satisfying to work with. It's these programs and services that separate us from other law firms you've worked with in the past.

TIME VALUE GUARANTEE

We understand that many legal needs may have real time constraints that could mean significant consequences and financial repercussions if the timing isn't met. When we say we'll have your work done by a particular date, we guarantee it!

PROJECT BILLING

Because we offer billing by the project in place of by the minute or hour, we take the fear out of your calling to ask questions relating to your case or project. This saves you money and allows for open communication leading to better results.

CLIENT ASSURANCE

We believe that interaction with an attorney should be a reassuring experience. Client Assurance is our firm's approach to ensuring that our clients can expect understandable and accurate direction they can rely on.

When you work with Farley Law, you can expect clear communication and real solutions to any challenges your institution may be facing.

1

DISCUSSION

Clients may expect to be able to discuss most matters on the phone without the need for lengthy research or fear of increasing hourly charges.

2

CLARITY

Clients may expect guidance that they will clearly understand in place of uncertain responses and unanswered questions.

3

ACCURACY

Clients may expect accuracy of all responses. If a complete response can't be given immediately during a consultation, clients may expect a prompt and accurate follow up confirmation.

4

REAL SOLUTIONS

Clients may expect that discussions will lead to direct actions, resolutions, and real benefits.

With Farley Law, clients receive large law firm expertise with the personalized benefits of working with an independent attorney. Brent Farley not only knows the law but also understands the unique needs of you and your bank. You also receive the benefit of having a single attorney handling all aspects of your case. This provides for greater continuity while ultimately saving you money compared to the high overhead costs of large firms.
